Proposed Change:	Updating Hazard Category to include an additional option "Accelerator Facility". 5. 05 Accelerator Facility – The facility which contains an accelerator and its components which employ electrostatic or electromagnetic fields to impart kinetic energy to molecular, atomic, or sub-atomic particles and capable of creating a radiological area as defined by 10 CFR Part 835, Occupational Radiation Protection and covered in DOE O 420.2D.
Justification:	The expansion of the hazard category pick list is necessary to accurately report on accelerator facilities that do not adhere to the same standards as the radiological or nuclear facilities. They are still regulated, but accelerator facilities have the ability to fluctuate levels of materials and should be categorized to reflect that. I would also recommend that the accelerator facility stay grouped with nuclear and radiological and be numbered as 05.
